We believe that all children can learn and we will establish high standards of learning that we expect all students to achieve. It is our job to create an environment in our classrooms that engages students in academic work that results in a high level of achievement. We are confident that with our support and help students can master challenging curricula, and we expect them to do so. We are prepared to work collaboratively with colleagues, students and parents to achieve this shared educational purpose. (Dufor, 1997a).

From Your Principal
 Dear Lincoln Families,

It is with great excitement that we begin the 2017-2018 school year. My name is Mrs. Becky Sprinkle, the new principal of Lincoln Elementary. I have been a teacher at Lincoln Elementary for 17 years. Last year I was the Vice Principal of Tully C. Knoles and Don Riggio while still trying to hold my Title 1 teaching job here at Lincoln Elementary. I am so excited to be back to Lincoln Elementary. I consider Lincoln Elementary my home. I hope you feel like you belong, have a voice, and are a part of this great community.

Because I have been a part of Lincoln Elementary for so many years already, I feel as if I know many of the students and parents. But, if I haven't officially met you, please introduce yourself to me. I am going to try my best to know everyone's names and make you feel like you belong here. The Lincoln Elementary staff continues to work hard to ensure your students receive a highly rigorous academic program that is enjoyable and engaging.

Along with staff, we have a growing PTA that works tirelessly to build a positive school culture. PTA puts on many school events that involve families such as, Fall Festival, Bingo For Books, Movie Nights, Book Fair, and much more. Please consider helping them out at any of these events.

WHAT DOES RESPECT LOOK LIKE?

Your child/ren daily dealings with adults and kids alike will be more pleasant if he/she speaks and acts respectfully. Try these tips for helping him/her learn about respect.

Respectful replies. Think about something that you and your child/ren disagree on (say, whether his/her video game time should be limited). Model having a respectful discussion about it. You might say that his/her brain and body are growing and that he/she needs to run and play to stay healthy. Then, suggest a respectful response, such as "I want to be healthy, but I love video games." Have him/her brainstorm other situations where people have different opinions but still speak to each other with respect.

Everyday acts. When you mow the lawn, or clean up after your dog, you can teach your child/ren about respect for neighbors. Explain that keeping your neighborhood clean and neat makes it nice for everyone. Ask him/her to think of other respectful things neighbors should do. If you share an apartment laundry room, he/she might say that you respect neighbors' time by removing your clothes when they're done so others get to use the washers and dryers. Just a couple of tips to start showing your child/ren about respecting others.

FROM OFFICER DOWD

Please drive cautiously, use crosswalks. When exiting the school parking lot, please make a right turn towards Lincoln Rd. Please do not block cars that are parked in the parking stalls in the school parking lot. When approaching crosswalk, please use your vehicles turn signals so I know where to direct you. Helps to run the traffic situation a little more smoothly.

Thank you
